TREATS OUR MEN

U. S. Will Test Truth of Reports of Ill Usage and May Retaliate.

Washington.—Though without any official information to confirm press reports of ill treatment of American prisoners of war in Germany, the state department has instituted an inquiry to develop the facts. If they conform to the published accounts, a protest will be made promptly through the Spanish government, which has taken over the American diplomatic representation at Berlin.

If the protest is unavailing, measures of retaliation will be considered.

German prisoners of war in America largely outnumber Americans held in German prison camps, and include the crews of German raiders and prizes, in addition to the crew of the German submarine U-58. These prisoners have been treated with a degree of liberality that has caused adverse criticism in some quarters and marked contrast to the treatment said to be accorded prisoners in Germany.

One difficulty in the way of retaliation, it is said, is that it might lend color to the stories of American cruelties told by the German military commanders to their troops to deter them from deserting. That such stories have been told has been testified to by prisoners taken by Gen. Pershing's men.

The state department's inquiry will extend to the charges that American prisoners have not been allowed to receive the packages of food and clothing sent them by the American Red Cross and which, under the rules of war, they were entitled to receive.

DEATH BLOW TO

HUN HOPES SEEN

Failure of the Present Drive Will Mean Ultimate Allied Victory.

London.—I met a man home on leave at lunch, says K. Walter.

"When did you come over?" I asked.

"Yesterday. Forty-eight hours ago I was in the thick of it."

In the midst of the great battle he had been notified by field telephone that he was due to go on leave and his major had persuaded him to go.

Last Wednesday evening I received a letter from a major of engineers, also in the thick of it. It was dated Monday.

These are small matters to send across the ocean as echoes of the great conflict, but I believe they will help you to realize better than any official assurances the methodical calm with which England's supreme effort for democracy is being conducted. The behavior of the people at home is a match for the imperious working of the last military machine. Personal anxiety and suspense are universal. I do not know a family which has not one real defender of democracy in the heroic British divisions known or believed to be engaged in the battle, but in public there has been no sign of uneasiness. Only the questions we ask each other have changed. They are no longer exclusively concerned with the movement of the hour. The future is still inscrutable in all its details, but it is a longer future than it was a few days ago.

Will the battle be decisive? Will it bring peace? At the time of writing, the best opinion I have been able to consult answers yes to the first and shakes its head over the second. As a deathblow to the very last German hope of ultimate victory it will be decisive. So far as strictly military events go it will end the war, because the Hun general staff still has in reserve sufficient forces to carry out a big alternative plan of defense prepared for just such an eventuality as they seem likely to have to face. Cautious minds are prepared for a dead-lock on a new line, which would in effect be a German defeat, a British victory, and a challenge to America. The issue of the war would be assured, but its duration would depend upon American arms and American shipbuilders.

We know today that the first German plan of offensive has been terribly defeated, that the German sacrifice of life has been overwhelmingly too great for even German wireless which was part of the prearranged to support the early claim of victory plan of battle. Their capture of territory, prisoners and material will not stand comparison with the loot of their comparatively bloodless offensives in Italy and Russia. The price has been so high that they are on the verge of bankruptcy, and like a bankrupt, prepared for still more desperate throws. For nobody here makes the mistake of believing that the enemy's offensive resources are yet exhausted; it is considered probable that he will seek to maintain the war of maneuver, possibly by thrusts elsewhere, however slow the pace, in the vain glorious hope of a crushing encircling movement at one or the other extremity of the new salient, even if Amiens, Abbeville, the sea and all his first great hopes have eluded him.

On the other hand, the British plan of a steady retreating and gruelling defensive has succeeded, and the allied counter measures have not yet been received. Attacks by British and French aimed deep into the elbows of the silent are among the possibilities of the day which the enemy is already trying to forestall by an offensive defensive thrust at Arras.

The situation is speculative enough for hopes to run extravagantly high in some quarters. Our Good Friday preachers have been reminding us how the fate of humanity was once transformed in these three days of Eastertide, how the spirit of the world was dead and none knew at the time except by faith how soon it rose again. Once more the world is hushed with expectancy, and, though sorely vexed, yet never more constant in faith that the Spirit will prevail over the brute forces of hell.

ly walked down the aisle and stood beside them. Rev. N. W. Robinson officiated. The bride is the daughter of Roscoe Stone, and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. M. S. Weekly War News Digest— Stories of Activities and Conditions

The frequent and widespread publication of statements concerning the presence of ground glass in foodstuffs has led the Committee on Public Information to inquire into the authenticity of these reports. It has been advised by the Food Administration that thorough investigations of more than 200 of the cases has disclosed only one instance in which ground glass was found in the foodstuffs inspected.

The case in which glass was found occurred at Fort Smith, Ark. A baker in that town had had trouble with his employees, one of whom, desiring to destroy his employer's business, had filled with glass a loaf of bread which was to be delivered to an orphanage. When the bread was served to the inmates of the institution several of them suffered lacerations of their lips. No more serious injuries resulted.

In a statement urging the creation of National Defense cities these advantages of the school district as a unit of community organization:

The school district is small enough to permit individual contact, and is nonpolitical.

The schoolhouse supplies a meeting place in each district, and in many schools includes domestic science, manual training, and other facilities.

The school district reaches children and parents alike, and in the cities the school is, to a large extent, already in touch with the alien population.

The school is an established center of information and education.

The school principal or faculty provides a tried agency through whose assistance community organization can be quickly effected.

The school district, with the schoolhouse as its center, is already a social community, especially in farm districts.

The Federal Trade Commission has issued orders to 98 lumber companies of the Middle West and far West requiring them to stop certain trade practices in relation to mail-order lumber concerns. Among the practices which are barred by the orders are the following:

Obtaining from mail-order concerns, in bad faith or by subterfuge, estimates of the prices of lumber and building material and obtaining catalogues and special information intended only for bona fide customers and prospective customers.

Though actual or threatened withdrawal of patronage, including manufacturers or wholesalers to refuse to furnish supplies of lumber and building material to mail-order concerns.

Following or causing salesmen of mail-order concerns to be followed from place to place with the object of hindering and embarrassing them in their negotiations with prospective customers.

The first preference list issued by the priorities board, which names industries whose operation is considered of exceptional importance to the country during the war is for the guidance of all agencies of the United States in the distribution of coal and coke. Included in the list are plants engaged in the manufacture of the following:

Aircraft and supplies; ammunition and small arms for the United States Government or the allies; chemicals; coke; electrical equipment; electrodes; explosives; farm implements and farm operating equipment; feed; ferroalloys; fertilizers; fire brick; food; food containers; gas; gas-producing machinery; gums; hemp; jute; and cotton bags; insecticides; iron and steel; machine tools; mining tools and equipment; oil-well equipment; locomotives, cars, and other railway supplies; ships (not including pleasure craft); soap; tanned leather, save for patent leather; tanning extracts; tin plate; binder twine and rope; wire rope and rope wire.

Army and Navy camps and cantonments are included in the list as well as mines, newspapers, and periodicals, oil refineries, public institutions and buildings, public utilities, railways, producers and wholesalers of seeds, except flower seeds.

Parcels of soldiers in camps are warned by the War Department of a swindle which has successfully operated in various camps.

A telegram is sent informing that the soldier has a furlough, and requesting funds by wire to come home wearing identification. The rest is a mere matter of detail.

Parents and friends should be warned of this game and of the similar one where the telegraphic request is to mail money to the soldier, care general delivery.

In order to meet the demand for increased production of foodstuffs, instructions have been issued in Canada permitting the free admission of teams, vehicles, implements, and other outfits which have been in use for farming purposes, conditional on their reexportation prior to December 31, 1918.

A review of the first year of operation of the Federal Farm Loan System shows that 2,808 national farm loan associations were incorporated representing about four associations to each five counties of the United States. They average 20 members, or a total membership of about 56,000 farmers.

The 12 land banks have received applications for over 120,000 loans, amounting to about $300,000,000. About 80,000 loans, amounting to over $160,000,000, have been approved, and on 30,000 of these loans over $80,000,000 has been paid to the farmers.

Under the new baking rules issued by the Food Administration, the substitute for wheat-flour content of all bread and rolls must amount to 25 per cent. The substitute content hereafter required in various products follow:

Sweet yeast dough goods, 33 1/2 per cent; crackers, 15 per cent; cookies and ice-cream cones, 33 1/2 per cent; pies, 33 1/2 per cent; fried cakes, 33 1/2 per cent; pastry, 33 1/2 per cent; batter cakes, waffles, quickbreads—such as muffins and Boston brown bread, 66 1/2 per cent.

Under the new rules no public eating place may serve more than 2 ounces of bread and rolls or more than 4 ounces of quick bread to any one meal.

With customers who buy loaf bread bakers are urged to promote the use of the three-quarter pound loaf, following the Food Administration's request that the 12-ounce loaf be used where the 16-ounce loaf was used before.

Bakers are urged to introduce "quick breads" as a wheat-saving measure. These quick breads, including muffins, baking-powder biscuits, corn bread, Boston brown bread, griddle cakes, and waffles, must contain two-thirds wheat-flour substitutes.

The use of the words "milk" or "cream" on wrappers and labels is no longer prohibited, but milk bread must still be sold at the same price as bread made without milk.

The official review of the first year of war issued by the Committee on Public Information contained the following description of the work of American engineers in France:

American engineers have gone into French forests and done the work of the pioneers of our own Northwest. They have frequently been under fire. One of their first tasks was the reconstruction and extension of a railroad 600 miles long to carry our products from ports of disembarkation to general bases of operation.

The First Engineer troops, 1,100 strong, arrived in France about three months after war was declared. Since then the number has been greatly augmented. These troops have been constantly engaged in general engineering work, including the construction of railways, docks, wharves, cantonments, and hospitals.

An American Army locomotive was built in this country in 21 days and shipped to the Expeditionary Forces. Many other locomotives, cars, logging trains, trucks, disassembled buildings, and other equipment have been shipped to augment the output and facilitate the construction operations of American forces abroad.

The Fuel Administration has issued a warning against the use of domestic sizes of hard coal by industrial plants.

Representatives of the musical-instrument industry have agreed to a curtailment of their output to 70 per cent of normal during April and May.

A total of 100,000 women are now on the pay roll of the Prussian-Hessian Railway, according to a statement in the Leipziger Illustrirte Zeitung.

In Norway, where no gasoline has been obtainable for many months and automobiles have practically ceased running, experiments are being made to operate motor cars with acetylene gas.

The total amount of foodstuffs shipped during March from the United States and Canada to the allies, according to the Food Administration, was about 1,100,000 tons, compared with 750,000 tons in February.

Red Cross workers at line of communication canteens in France accompany American soldiers on shopping trips, to see that they receive correct change and otherwise advise them in their encounters with French shopkeepers.

Three landing fields have been obtained for the proposed Washington-New York airplane postal service, at Washington, Philadelphia, and New York. According to the Post Office Department, the service will start not later than May 15.

APPEAL FOR FARMERS TO TRAIN BOYS.

The time has come when we cannot be choosers but must take the best we can get. This principle applies practically to all classes of people to-day, owing to conditions brought on by the World War. Of all classes of people that are hardest hit by these conditions is the employer of labor, whether he be a manufacturer, a merchant or a farmer.

The farmer, no less than the employer of labor in the city, has felt the drain of labor owing to the war. The active young men upon whom chiefly the farm work falls must be replaced by some one if production of food stuffs and meats is kept up even to the normal of past years. But the demand is for more food so we can help supply the other nations who are helping us to make the world safe for democracy.

There are 2,000,000 High School boys in this country. Several thousand of these are in our own State and have enrolled in the U. S. Boys Working Reserve. These boys are willing and anxious to do their bit in helping to serve their country. Thousands and thousands of these boys have already pledged themselves to go to any farm where they may be sent and will do their best to aid the farmer. In other States calls from the farmers for boys have been greater than the supply.

A few of these High School boys have had farm experience, but the majority of them have never been on a farm and consequently do not know the first principles of farming. However, they declare they are willing to learn. They say they expect sore hands, tired muscles and hot, long days when they get to the farms but are "nerved" to do their part.

BETTER TAG YOUR DOG.

The recent legislature passed the most stringent dog law ever enacted in Kentucky. Under the provisions of this law all dogs must wear tags, and any dogs caught without a tag will be impounded and the cost taxed against its owner. It is made the duty of the sheriff to see to the enforcement of the law and heavy penalties are provided for his failure to do so. Any dog, without a tag, found upon the premises of another, when not accompanied by its owner, may be killed without involving responsibility in damages. Dogs, with or without tags, when found upon the premises of another after night may in like manner be killed. The provisions of this law will involve the necessity of locking up or chaining all dogs at night.

CARE OF COLTS AND YOUNG HORSES.

Give the weanlings and immature horses good care. The colts should be given an ample supply of grain and good roughage in order that they may mature into useful work horses. The saving of grain should be made with the idle mature horse and not with the colt. There are many economical rationings that can be fed to both young and mature stock, depending on the local feeds available. Write to your State expert station for information regarding the most economical rationings to be fed in your State. Also write to the United States Department of Agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin 803, which gives information on the feeding and management of young horses.

During the next few years the manure spreader will justify its existence more than ever before. All stable waste should be spread over the land before any of its fertility is lost.

Telephone Courtesy

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

Your Bond May Bring Him Home in Safety

American fathers are now on the battle fronts of France. Many must fall; how many depends upon us who remain safely at home.

A single Liberty Bond will help to save a soldier's life, and bring him home to his family---alive and victorious. To him, it will mean the difference between life and death; to his family the difference between happiness and desolation.

The advertising for the Third Liberty Loan in this city has been made possible through the patriotism of the following firms, who have generously contributed the space in which the advertising will appear:

HARTFORD HERALD.
HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

Without those supplies and munitions so vitally essential to the conduct of modern warfare, thousands of our soldiers will perish needlessly upon the battlefield. Thousands of women will be widowed; thousands of children made fatherless.

You can prevent this! YOU!

Can you hesitate? Good Heavens! The man is fighting for your family, as well as his; for your fireside, your wife, your children, your nation.

Buy Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan

Buy all you can possibly pay for, even though the payment involves stern self-denial. Remember, you are not asked to give your money; you are asked to lend it, at good interest, to the wealthiest, strongest, most honorable nation on the globe.

If you can't pay cash for your bonds, you can borrow a part of the money at your bank, using the bonds as security; or, you can buy them at your bank on easy partial payment plan. It is no trouble to buy Liberty Bonds—it is no trouble to pay for them. See your banker today.

Looks as if old man Winter absolutely refuses to give way to Miss Spring.

If April showers bring May flowers we certainly will have an abundance of them, if the last few days of last month are to be used as criterion.

If the 36-hour law is enforced, as it should be, there is going to be some work done this year by men who have never been initiated into the mysteries of "the order" since birth.

Uncle Joe Cannon has found out what those swivel chair commissioned army officers in Washington, who are doing civilian duty wear spurs for. He says they use them to keep their feet from slipping off roll top desks.

In the bombardment of Paris one day last week by that long range gun of the Hun, the only damage done was the cutting down of a fruit tree. And if we mistake not, one Gen. W. did that much with a little hatchet a long time ago.

Editor Lemon, of the Mayfield Messenger, in an editorial on the "Dishonest Dollar" says if you have one of these dollars in your pocket, get rid of it or it will land you in the poorhouse or the lake. This being the case we have no cause to worry over either, as our pocket is about as dollarless as a Mexican dog is hairless.

Another bunch of fine looking young men have left Ohio county to join the colors, and the best wishes of every man, woman and child go with them. The war is being brought home to us more and more every day, as the first Ohio county boy fell on the field of battle recently, and this is the fourth increment of young men to leave here for the army camp.

The last session of the Kentucky legislature passed a law whereby every man between the ages of 21 and 61 MUST labor 36 hours per week no matter whether you are a millionaire or a bum. This law should be enforced to the letter, as this is no time for loafers, and there is plenty of work in the country for all who want a job. Let's see that this law is upheld in Hartford and Ohio county.

There is considerable kicking over the country about the great number of commissioned army officers of draft age in Washington city who are doing civilian duties, yet drawing the same salaries of those of the same rank who are already in and are facing the trenches. It is said about 1,700 of these commissioned army officers in the capital city are doing a class of work that could easily be done by women or older men, at about half the salary drawn by these "tin horn" captains, lieutenants, etc.

Here's the latest on the M. H. & E: We heard a responsible party say the other day that he had occasion to go down this line a few days ago, and as he was going to the depot in Hartford he noticed the horse of Deputy Sheriff Itoy Keown hitched to a post in front of the court house, when the train pulled into Knoxville a gentleman, by whom he was sitting, made the remark that "there is a good looking horse hitched there, isn't it?" Upon looking out the ear window to, and behold—there was the horse of the deputy sheriff that was hitched to a post in Hartford when the train pulled out. Now, this is what we call SERVICE personified.

The conscientious objectors at Camp Zachary Taylor will be put to work, says news dispatches. "The said that the 'Straw that broke the camel's back' was the refusal on the part of these fellows who would rather see the Hun rule the world than to shoulder a gun and go to the front, to plant flowers and do other work around the base hospital. And now Gen. Hale says they must get their guns and drill the same as the other boys, to all of which we cannot 'conscientiously object.'"

We see that since the new 20-cent road tax became a law several counties over state have put the proposition up to the people by a vote, and in several instances, in fact in most cases, it has been turned down. Just why the people in some of the best counties in the state will vote down good roads is beyond us, for there is nothing of more real value to a county, not taking into consideration the pleasure to be derived from the traveling and the marketing of crops over good, smooth, hard roads in preference to those axle deep in mud in winter and full of holes in summer.

FIRST OHIO COUNTIAN DIES IN FRANCE.

Cledia Evans, of Arnold, son of Mrs. Steve Evans, was the first Ohio county boy to give his life for his country and liberty in France.

He was 20 years old, and received the mortal wound on the battlefields of a foreign land, living only a few hours thereafter.

So Cledia Evans, of Arnold heads the honor roll of Ohio county boys to fall in defense of his country's liberty, and though his death will naturally grieve his parents, they may feel proud that their boy was the first to sacrifice his life in an effort to stamp out prussianism and all that goes with it.

RHODE ISLAND SENATE FOR FEDERAL AMENDMENT.

Rhode Island made a clear record on the Federal Suffrage Amendment in the House, of its congressional voting in the affirmative, and now a similar record is hoped for in the Senate when the suffrage measure shall be called up for a vote.

The Rhode Island Senate, according to press reports, passed a resolution unanimously urging the early passage of the Amendment, and it is expected that the Assembly will take similar action. Passage of the Federal Amendment was urged by the Rhode Island Senate upon four grounds, the fact that the Amendment had already passed the House; that all the political parties of Rhode Island have endorsed suffrage, that Rhode Island already has presidential suffrage, and that President Wilson has given his endorsement to the Federal Amendment.

Other state legislatures that have urged the passage of the Federal Amendment are those of New York, Montana, and North and South Dakota.

22 Million Families in the United States

IF EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 858,000,000 pounds, or 4,377,000 barrels in a year.

You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread made according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins

1 cup corn meal
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

2 tablespoons sugar
No eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons shortening

Sift dry ingredients together into bowl; add milk and melted shortening and beat well. Bake in greased muffin tins in hot oven about 20 minutes. Same batter may be baked as corn bread in greased shallow pan.

BANK DEPOSITS NOT DEPLETED BY LOANS

Despite the Fact That Billions Have Been Invested in Liberty Bonds, an Increase is Shown.

There is in some sections fear on the part of the banks that Liberty Loan subscriptions will tend toward a material decrease in bank deposits.

To offset this fear the following summary of the statement of the Comptroller of Currency, dated April 15, 1918, should correct this impression.

This statement, naturally, applies only to national banks, but is doubtless also true of state banks and trust companies.

On March 15, 1917, the total deposits of national banks were $12,957,000,000, or nearly 13 billions.

In spite of the sale of Liberty Bonds since that time of $5,880,000,000, or about six billions, the deposits in national banks on March 4, 1918, show an increase of $1,480,589,000, or nearly one and one-half billion, as compared with March 5, 1917.

The total amount of Liberty Bonds owned by national banks on March 4, 1918, was $433,738,000. This is less than $500.

This amount of Liberty Bonds owned by national banks on March 4, 1918, is only about 7 1/2 per cent of the total of the first and second Liberty Bond issues.

These facts should be given by the directors of planning to all banks in their localities.

It is the most accurate and forcible evidence of the effect upon bank deposits of the Liberty Bond sale.

LABOR AND CAPITAL UNITE

All Classes Must Buy Liberty Bonds to Help Win the War.

We are face to face with the most critical situation in American affairs. The time has come when each individual, no matter what his or her calling, must do his utmost to help in winning the war to rid the world of German autocracy, to protect his home and the love of freedom, and to insure the coming generations that same freedom which is so dear to every American citizen.

In this cause there must be no class distinction; the laborer and capitalist are equally interested and affected, and each must, for the time, forget self and stand shoulder to shoulder in helping the government in this crisis.

A war cannot be conducted without money. Less than 10,000,000 people subscribed to the first two Liberty Loans. There ought to be 30,000,000 subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan.

Let us all put up a solid front of complete and determined co-operation and see to it that the present Liberty Loan is fully and promptly subscribed.

FARMERS SUPPORT THE LOAN

By Clifford V. Gregory, Editor, the Prairie Farmer.

It takes money to fight a great war through to victory and it is up to us to furnish it. There was some criticism at the time of the second Liberty Loan to the effect that farmers were not buying bonds as liberally as they should. Most of this criticism was unjustified, though there is here and there a slacker in the country as well as elsewhere. We are in better shape to subscribe to this loan for it comes at a time when we have more of the war's products turned into cash.

Let us subscribe with a willingness that will make criticism impossible, that will show Uncle Sam the farmers of America are behind him with their money as well as with their plows. Every dollar subscribed to the Liberty Loan helps to bring the farmer's day of reckoning nearer.

MR. FARMER, WAKE UP!

You Are Vitrally Interested in This World War—Buy a Bond.

Too few farmers, far removed from the war, realize the seriousness of our present predicament. The very fact that the farmer is not immediately in touch with the war makes the danger more imminent.

Russia is made up of farming population, probably three-fourths of which know very little of what the war over there means. As a result the army is not provisioned and money not kept in circulation and the military machine collapsed. Support our army by buying bonds.

DON'T BURY YOUR BOND

Deposit It in Your Bank and You Can Raise Money on It if You Need.

When you and your neighbor have bought your Liberty Bonds don't take them home and hide them in the cupboard. Take them to your country banker and have him give you certificates of deposit for the bonds. Your banker can take these bonds to a Federal Reserve bank and borrow money for your use in case you suddenly find yourself in need of funds.

Hiding a bond in your stocking at this time is just as bad as hoarding money. Keep the bonds and the money in circulation and the country will pull through this crisis all right.

BREAKING THE CAMEL'S BACK

The War Savings Stamp Will Prove the Last Straw

(Plaschke in Louisville Times)

DRIVES DO NOT CONFLICT

Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps Supplement Each Other

No More Conflict in Two Campaigns Than Between Superdreadnoughts and Destroyers—Object of Both is to Finance War.

Louisville, Ky.—Instead of the Liberty Loan campaign and the War Savings movement conflicting they really supplement each other.

The Liberty Loan campaign and the War Savings movement are no more rivals than the superdreadnoughts and the destroyers of our navy are rivals.

The Liberty Loan and War Savings Stamps are two forms of the same financial operation of the United States Government. They were authorized by the same vote of Congress and are intended to supplement each other. They are both of paramount importance to the financing of the war. The Liberty Loan campaign is primarily to obtain the many billions of dollars necessary toward paying the expenses of war and lending to our allies.

The peculiar significance of the War Savings movement is to teach the nation to save and to invest its savings in War Savings Stamps in order that the Government may not merely get money, but spend this money for the support of the army.

Successive Liberty Loan Bonds will be sold in campaigns at intervals. The War Savings campaign will last throughout the year—no doubt until the war is over. It aims to develop habits of thrift that shall make the sales of stamps cumulative. And the person of limited means who invests in a few War Savings Stamps does his share as well as the wealthier man who buys a quantity of Liberty Loan bonds. Millions who could not afford to invest in Liberty bonds will be able and glad to help by investing in War Savings Stamps. The two campaigns are, in reality, but one—that of financing for victory.

SCHOOLS DO GOOD WORK

Louisville, Ky., April 1, 1918. Mr. J. B. Mantle, Secretary Jefferson County War Savings Committee, 611 Columbia Building, Louisville, Ky.

My dear Mr. Mantle:

I have the honor to report to you that the War Savings Societies in Louisville public schools number 637. A few are yet to be organized. We have been in operation approximately three weeks, and during that time have sold Thrift Stamps and Baby Bonds amounting to $11,954.00. I believe that every school has done its best, and that this work will continue at high speed throughout the year.

The schools that have contributed $500.00 or more are listed below:

Girls High School $2,628
George Rogers Clark School 830
Normal School 590
George W. Morris School 550
Longfellow School 519

We feel that special congratulations are due to the Girls High School with its amount totaling $2,628, and to the George Rogers Clark School which leads the elementary schools of the city with a total of $830. It is true that many of the smaller schools may have done quite as well if we consider the average amount sold. For the months of April we shall have computed the average amount sold on the basis of the average number belonging. This will make a fair comparison between all schools.

Yours truly,
O. L. REID,
Superintendent.

BOURBON OUT IN FRONT

Blue Grass County Leads State in Thrift Stamp Drive

Chairman S. E. Bedford Has Made Fine Record and People Have Come Forward in Pleading and Commendable Way.

Paris, Ky.—A Bluegrass county, Bourbon, holds the record so far in Kentucky, size, population and quota considered, in the sale of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps. Chairman S. E. Bedford has reported to State Headquarters at Louisville that his organization has disposed of $100,000 worth of stamps. Its quota is $349,240, and the Bourbon organization is planning to have all of this amount either sold outright or pledged before the Third Liberty Loan campaign is finished in his section of Kentucky.

The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen, which is actively co-operating with Mr. Bedford and his organization in this great war activity, has the following article with reference to the campaign in Bourbon:

"Fifty-nine Bourbon county people have been enrolled in the one thousand dollar War Savings Stamp Club as a result of their subscribing for the maximum of stamps permitted by the United States Government.

"Other persons have liberally subscribed for War Savings Stamps in amounts from five to five hundred dollars each and as a result Chairman S. E. Bedford has disposed of more than one hundred thousand dollars' worth of War Savings Stamps through his working committees distributed in Bourbon county. 'Bourbon county's allotment of War Savings Stamps is $349,240, and our people must hurry themselves a bit and subscribe quickly for the stamps remaining unsold.

"In the War Savings campaign Bourbon people, rich and otherwise, have come forward with their subscriptions to this gift edge investment in a most pleasing and commendable way, for all of which County Chairman Bedford and the members of the precinct committees are highly appreciative. However, the unsold War Savings Stamps must be sold before the next issue of Liberty Loan Bonds, which will be offered to the public in April. Get busy you patriotic and liberty-loving people of Bourbon. Call on some member of the committee and buy liberally of the War Savings Stamps, the best and most desirable investment obtainable today. Do your duty now—don't wait until members of the County Committee, all busy business men, look you up to beg you to do your patriotic duty."

HAVE A THRIFT POCKET

A thrift pocket is a character builder—it tests your capacity to resist. You will find it as alluring as the penny bank you once had on the mantelpiece. Select the pocket—any one will do—and then select the coin. Suppose your "thrift coin" is a nickel. Every nickel you get goes into the thrift pocket. You can not borrow from the thrift pocket nor lend from it. Experience proves that it isn't wise even to make change from it, and that it is a failure if you are not honest, scrupulously honest, with it. Every time it gets over-heavy, put it into Thrift Stamps. Thrift Stamps are light.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

Strengthened by Hartford Experiences

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness, or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Hartford people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Hartford people.

E. L. Ashley, farmer, Griffin St., Hartford, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a reliable kidney medicine. I suffered with backache and too frequent action of my kidneys. This medicine helped my kidneys, relieved my back and made me feel better generally."

BILL BRADSHAW BUYS THIRD LIBERTY BONDS

By ANNA STOKES.

The little town of Cedarville was not wealthy, just an ordinary country town, but with lots of patriotism, which bubbled forth with energy at the approaching sale of Liberty Bonds, which marked the entrance of the United States into the world war.

Bill Bradshaw looked at all the preparations with a smile. He did not intend to buy Liberty Bonds. That $4,000 lying so snugly in the bank should not be disturbed. He guessed he was loyal enough without buying bonds.

Just before the sale of bonds for the Third Liberty Loan started Miss Ames, the compositor in the little country print shop, said to Bill, "They'll make you buy some bonds this time, won't they, Bill?"

"Not me; I won't invest a dollar."

"But you $2 that you buy at least one bond before this sale is over," said the editor, rubbing a grimy finger reflectively over his long nose.

"Take the bet!" snapped Bill. Bill left the office, and Mr. Rich, the editor, got in communication with McNamara, the head of the selling committee. As they talked low, the young lady in the bank could not hear the conversation.

A week after the campaign opened, Bill Bradshaw had bought no bonds. It was well on into the third week when Mr. Rich met Mr. McNamara coming to his office.

"Hello, Mac! Any news from friend Bill?"

"Yes and no. Fact is I called on him last night, and I told him I understood that he had repeatedly refused to buy bonds. Now I was required by the government to fill out this card. Then I pulled my yellow card on him and began to ask questions."

McNamara paused. Rich waited, then asked: "What then?"

"His wife said: 'Bill, you'd better buy bonds than to let that go to the government.'"

"Did he?" asked Rich.

"No, not then, but he asked me not to send the card until tonight, which, of course, I agreed to. I think he'll see the light."

McNamara went down the street, while Rich went into his office with a smile on. Late that afternoon, as Rich went by the bank to the post-office, Mr. McNamara called him in.

"Bill bought a thousand dollars' worth of bonds," he said with a broad grin.

"Scared, was he?" asked Rich.

"Pretty badly rattled."

It was fully two weeks before Bradshaw called at the Criterion office, and when he did he walked up to the desk and, laying down $2, said:

"I am a man of my word. I bought bonds, for I considered them a good investment. One does not lose anything by such an investment, and he has the satisfaction of helping his government."

This was said in a very patriotic way, but Miss Ames, who was sharp of tongue and not at all particular about people's feelings, said: "Bill Bradshaw, I bet they pulled a yellow card on you."

"I don't know what color the pesky thing was," admitted Bill. "But if one of them cards would go to Uncle Sam, with them questions filled out like Mac wanted to, I'd be arrested for a pro-German. The whole trouble is Mac knows to a cent just how much money I have, and there's no getting round it."

Bill remained and was unmercifully roasted by the sharp-tongued young woman, but for all that Bill Bradshaw was the only man in Cedarville who had a yellow card pulled on him.

After he left Miss Ames turned upon her boss.

"Mr. Rich, did you tell McNamara to go after Bradshaw?"

"No; I told McNamara what he said about not buying bonds, and that I had a bet with him on the result, but no stakes were up—it was just a verbal bet—but a yellow card would bring him quicker than anything."

And so it came about that Bill Bradshaw displays in his window a "Flag of Honor" and tells all his neighbors what a good investment he considers Liberty Bonds.

NO APOLOGIES NECESSARY

The Salesman Offering Liberty Bonds Has the Best Line in the World.

When you start out to sell Liberty Bonds, you will get an intimate view of human nature. You may run across a woman who will stint her table to buy a bond, or one who is too poor because she has just invested in a dog, cut according to the latest fashion.

You will find a lot of kids that have cheerfully given up candy and other knick-knacks to buy thrift stamps. And you will find big men who will spend the price of a bond in an evening, too strapped to support their Government.

You will meet with politeness and with rudeness, with frankness and with evasion. Some few will even buy more bonds than they should; but most people will show a degree of caution that is out of keeping with the crisis we are facing.

But remember that, in selling these bonds, you have to apologize to nobody; while whoever fails to respond generously to your appeal owes you an apology.

TELL HIM NOW.

If with pleasure you are viewing Any work a man is doing, If you like him, or you love him tell him now;

Don't withhold your approbation, till the parson makes oration. As he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it, He won't know how many tears drops you have shed.

If you think some praise is due him, Now's the time to slip it to him, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money Is the comment, kind and sunny, And the hearty warm approval of a friend.

For it gives to life a savor; and it makes you stronger—braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.

If he earns your praise, bestow it; If you like him let him know it, Let the words of true encouragement he said;

Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

—Will P. Hoffman.

Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

DON'T KILL CARRIER PIGEONS.

Killing of carrier pigeons belonging to the United States Army is seriously interfering with that army.

Taylor. According to the authorities in charge, many pigeons branch of the training at Camp Zachary Taylor.

have been lost within the last few weeks. Only a few days ago, seven pigeons were turned loose at West Point, Ky., eighteen miles from the Camp.

Of these, only two returned to the pigeon loft, and both of these were seriously injured by shot gun wounds.

The officers in charge believe that none of this shooting is with intent to kill the Government pigeons but as one Officer expressed it, "Is simply an example of the thoughtless boy with a shot gun."

"Carrier pigeons are of vital importance in modern warfare," said Major Clarence A. Dougherty, 84th Division Signal Officer, under whose jurisdiction falls the work of training the pigeons.

"They carry messages when other means fail and it is very important that each Division have a well trained crop. It is earnestly requested that people refrain from shooting carrier pigeons.

Inasmuch as it is quite impossible for the ordinary person to distinguish between a carrier pigeon and other types of pigeon, it is asked that they be very careful in shooting any kind of pigeon.

Very often the carrier pigeons will stop to rest at strange lofts. Persons who discover these pigeons should examine them carefully and see that they are not carrier pigeons before getting rid of them.

Each pigeon owned by the Government has a small band on the leg marked "U. S. A. '18." When any pigeon with this marker be found dead, it is requested that the band be taken from the leg and mailed to the Division Signal Officer, Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky."

Major Dougherty said that legislation was being passed to make it a federal offense to kill the carrier pigeon, but in the meantime he is appealing to persons living within the vicinity of the Camp, to be very careful to see that no harm comes to them.

A MILLIONAIRE AUTHOR.

An article in the American Magazine states that in less than 15 years Harold Bell Wright wrote seven novels and the combined sale of the seven reached 7,000,000 copies.

The following record is given: "The Shepherd of the Hills," nearly 2,000,000; "The Winning of Barbara Worth," nearly 1,000,000; "The Eyes of the World" sold more than 750,000, as has "When a Man's Man," while "The Calling of Dan Matthews" has reached over 1,000,000 sales;

"Their Yesterdays" has reached nearly 750,000 sales, while "The Printer of Udell's," his first novel, sold over 600,000 copies. The advance sales of his latest novel amounted to 600,000 copies."

Mr. Wright has sold more books than any other author in the world and he is the only American author who became a millionaire by writing, it is declared.

Do you want to "do something" for the food supply—meat and eggs—even if only in a small way? Keep some hens. Not a new idea, of course, but until now it never was quite so necessary or mandatory to grasp every food-making opportunity.

Try it in the back-yard, beginning wisely on a small scale—say 10 hens.

The kind of "personal liberty" that allows children to grow up in ignorance is a decidedly poor kind of liberty to use in the building of a free state.—Southern Agriculturist.

CONVENIENCES FOR THE HOME.

"Farm Home Conveniences," a bulletin just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, takes as its text "Whatever lessens woman's work benefits the race," and then proceeds to tell how to make housework easier.

It does this by describing simple methods of constructing home conveniences, including a kitchen cabinet, fireless cooker, sponge box or bread mixer, dish drainer, serving tray, folding ironing board, iceless refrigerator, coal box, home butter-making equipment, cheese-making equipment, shower bath, home waterworks, fly trap, window screen, and cook stove drier or evaporator. The proper height of a working surface and a cleaning closet also are discussed in the bulletin.

Copies of the bulletin (Farmers' Bulletin 927) may be obtained free from the Division of Publications of the department.

There is a more complete list of these conveniences in this section.

Stop Catarrh With Vin Hepatica

Right now is when catarrh is most dangerous and most easily contracted. You go out and get your feet wet, expose yourself to cold, and the first thing you know you have Catarrh which, if not stopped at once may quickly lead to deadly pneumonia and tuberculosis.

No matter how slight your case is, even a slight dropping in the throat, you should start immediately to take Vin Hepatica, the great vegetable prescription which acts with such soothing and healing effect upon the mucous membranes, cleansing and tending up the vital organs of the body and enabling them to perform their natural functions in throwing off catarrh and making you proof against other diseases so prevalent this time of year. We recommend it. Come in and get a bottle now.

HARTFORD MOTOR CAR CO.,
Hartford, Ky.
John W. Field, Owensboro, Ky.

You know, of course, that the Maxwell Motor Car is the long distance champion of the world.

You have read that a "stock" Maxwell 5-passenger car ran for 44 days and nights without stopping the motor.

And that, in the 44 days non-stop test, the Maxwell covered 22,022 miles, at an average speed of 25 miles per hour.

But have you, up to now, realized the full significance of that performance?

Do you know that no other motor car in the world has ever equalled or even approached that performance?

In a word, did you take this test seriously when you heard of it?

Or did you set it down as a "selling stunt" to give the publicity man something to talk about?

It's worth your while to read and to study the conditions under which that test was made.

You know that the American Automobile Association (familiarly known as the "A.A.A.") is the official arbiter of every automobile test and contest.

But perhaps you didn't know that when a maker places his product under A.A.A. supervision he must do absolutely as told and abide by the decisions of the Board.

That's why there are so few A.A.A. Official Records!

This 22,000-mile Maxwell non-stop test was official from start to finish.

Therein lies its value to you.

It proves absolutely the quality of the car—of the very Maxwell you buy.

For verily this was a "stock" Maxwell. Listen:—

First: the inspectors disassembled the motor to see that no special pistons, valves, bearing-metal or other parts had been used.

Every other unit was as critically inspected. Then the car was re-assembled under their own supervision.

As we had much at stake and the test was made in winter (November 23 to January 5) we asked permission to take certain little precautions against accidental stoppage.

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

But they refused permission to do any such thing.

For example:—They would not permit a rubber cover over the magneto—it wasn't "stock."

They refused to let us tape the ignition wire terminals—they are not taped on the Maxwells we sell—so of course it wasn't "stock."

Neither would they let us use a spiral coiled pipe in place of the usual straight one from tank to carburetor to guard against a breakage from the constant, unremitting vibration—it isn't "stock."

Nor to use a special high priced foreign make of spark plug—the run was made on the same spark plugs with which all Maxwells are equipped.

So rigid were the rules, we were unable to carry a spare tire on the rear—it wasn't "stock." A telegram to headquarters in New York finally brought a special permit to carry a spare tire.

"It isn't stock!" "It isn't stock!"

That was the laconic reply of those A.A.A. inspectors to every last suggestion that called for anything but the precise condition of the standard, stock model Maxwell that any customer can buy from any one of 3000 dealers anywhere.

We are glad now—mighty glad—that the rules were so strict and so rigidly enforced.

Any other car that ever attempts to equal that record must do it under official supervision—and comply with the same terms.

And it will have to go some.

For Maxwell set the standard when it performed this wonderful feat.

Maxwell complied with those rules—and made good.

Every drop of gasoline and oil and water was measured out and poured in by the inspectors themselves. They would not even let our man pour it in!

Every four hours the car had to report at the official station for checking.

And it had to be there on the minute.

And every minute there was an inspector beside the driver on the front seat—two more men in the rear. One got out only to let another in—day and night for 44 days and nights!

There was one technical stop.

It is interesting to know the circumstances.

Dead of night—a driving storm—a cloudburst—suddenly another car appeared in the road ahead.

In his effort to avoid a collision the Maxwell driver stalled his motor.

At least the observers thought it stopped and so reported.

The car did not stop, however, so its momentum again started the motor (if it had indeed stalled) when the clutch was let in.

The contest board exonerated our driver on grounds that his action was necessary to save life.

That shows you how rigid were the rules—how conscientiously applied by the observers.

You who have owned and driven motor cars—you who know how small a thing may clog a carburetor or a feed pipe; "short" a spark or stall a motor—will realize what a wonderfully well made car this must be to go through that test under those conditions—44 days—22,022 miles without stopping.

The exact amount of gasoline, of oil, of water used; the tire mileage, tire troubles, tire changes; the distance and the routes are matters of official record, attested under oath and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

(By the way, the average was nearly 10,000 miles per tire.)

Any Maxwell owner—or anyone interested may see those records.

And—here's the most wonderful part—though no attempt was or could be made for economy; the Maxwell averaged 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Some other car may, some time, equal some one of those performances. But to equal them all in the same test—that car must be a Maxwell.
